Students will address aspects of performance technique that will ensure their continuing ability to develop their skills for performance and for their futures beyond this programme of study.

Aims

In this module students prepare, rehearse and present a full-scale production that demonstrates performance skills acquired on the programme for an audience that is made up of students from other levels and programmes across the institution as well as a public audience. In this context students practice and demonstrate what they have learned through engagement with directors and other contributors. Students integrate their performance and collaborative skills whilst contributing creatively and personally to this artistic performance endeavour.

It is intended that they, and the college, will facilitate exposure to the industry and to the media to ensure that their work is prominently presented to the public alongside Industry Showcases module at Level 6.

The module aims are to:

1. Enable students to develop their knowledge and understanding of the role of the performer to professional levels in the context of public performance.
2. Enable students to further develop their technical command to a professional standard with regard to the range of skills and practices, creativity and performance for Theatre in public performance.
3. Enable students to further develop their criticality and professionalism in the creation, rehearsal and performance of a large-scale production.
4. Enable students to engage professionally in cooperative and collaborative practices in the creation, rehearsal and performance of a large-scale work by taking responsibility for professionalism and their contribution to the processes of production.

Learning outcomes

On successful completion of this module, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate evidence of the acquisition of professional subject specific knowledge of performance and show clear appreciation and professional understanding of that knowledge with regard to their work on this event.
2. Demonstrate their significant acquisition of practical skills in performance acquired in Voice, Acting and Movement/Dance modules in the programme.
3. Demonstrate evidence of professional levels of self-reliance and collaboration in their application of their on-going self-discipline and ability to take responsibility as professional performers in their participation in the ensemble performance and other activities in this module.

- Research specific texts/genres/narratives as appropriate for the performance material by utilising a wide range of research techniques and exploring the relationship between theoretical research and performance to a high level.

Learning and teaching methods

The module will be delivered through large/medium groups. In working on a production students will have the ability to demonstrate the acquisition of performance skills, as well as develop those skills over longer, broader stories/narratives. Students will engage in practices that will develop their self-sufficiency as emerging performance artists. Students will discuss the appropriate ways to engage in written discourse concerning their practical work in order to develop this skill.
